

Support the Moms of HOPE

- an initiative of the HOPE Program - with your donations of items from the Moms of Hope Baby Registries

An important part of the Medical Advocacy & Outreach (MAO) mission is to respond to the needs of women living with HIV, particularly during the perinatal period when their are increased risks to mother and child. MAO provides medical and social work services to women living with HIV (WLWH) during the perinatal period through the HOPE Program. HOPE (Health, Outreach, Prevention, Empowerment) strives to increase positive health outcomes through strategic, intensive outreach and prevention services designed to facilitate the empowerment of MAO's perinatal WLWH. Moms of Hope, an initiative of the HOPE Program, enlists the support of the community to realize the objectives of the HOPE Program through donations of baby and maternity supplies as well as financial donations to support unaddressed or unanticipated needs of these mothers to be.

These Moms of Hope often have limited financial and social support, which can cause them to feel alone and hopeless during a time that should be filled with excitement and love. While the mothers and their babies must remain anonymous, MAO's HOPE Program and its Moms of Hope Initiative have established a few ways for you to shower them with love.
